We Hear You

Any gripes, kudos or ideas? Call 378-9136 to sound off.

I sure had a lot of trouble understanding that story about "Funds available" (last week). Somebody sure messed up.

WOULD BE READER

Editor's note: I'll say. Some of the lines of type were placed in the wrong order and the last half of the story was almost impossible to understand. At least the "for more information" part was readable and many people called that number to find out details on applying for the $3 million in federal Title VI funds. For those who thought about applying but didn't, it's too late. Deadline for submitting proposals to the Santa Clara Valley Employment and Training Board was today.

I'm just a little confused by the statements and actions by the West Valley College (district) board.

A few weeks ago Trustee Gould says the election results were NOT a mandate from the voters to abandon plans for the stadium. Then I read where they've decided to rescind their go it alone stand and back off on the stadium. If they weren't so all fired set on building that (#*#) thing why did they put us to all the trouble of fighting it at the polls?

UPSET

Why can't they put the teenage disco in the Grant building that is up for lease on Hillsdale and Leigh?

LOCAL TEEN

Editor's note: That's an idea. It may be too big for Robert Firato's plans though. The big objection to it here wasn't over the disco itself but over the dangerous location, traffic wise. With the south loop street construction taking part of the edge of that property, it may be difficult to come up with a good use under present zoning (which allows such businesses as a restaurant, disco, etc.). The Planning Department is now studying this question and will be making a recommendation to the Planning Commission.

Take a tour of center

Area residents will get a chance to take a look at the new West Valley Service Center at its official opening on Tuesday, June 7 at 5 p.m.

Tours of the 700 Gale drive facility are scheduled that day from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

The Center, which serves the entire West Valley area, is operated by the Department of Social Services.

Beware of slow moving tractors

Earthmoving equipment will be part of the downtown Campbell landscape for awhile starting this week as construction of the north loop street (Civic Center drive) and other street improvements get underway.

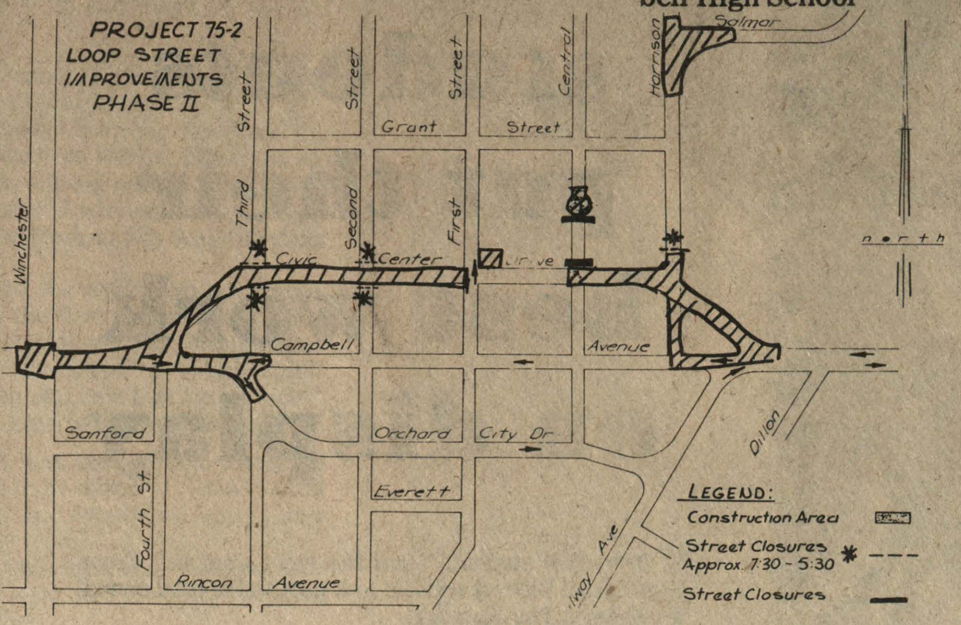
During most of the five month construction period Harrison and Central Ave., and Second and Third st. will be closed at the loop street during the contractor's working hours (about 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.). Central will ultimately be closed to through traffic permanently with a cul de sac constructed just south of the library parking lot entrance.

According to Project Engineer Dave Valkenaar, during the early weeks of construction Harrison and Central will be open to local traffic outside the working hours.

Last week letters were sent out by the Department to residents and business owners in the downtown area advising them to use First st. during the construction period to get across the new loop street. Commuters, though, are expected to use Hamilton, Bascom or Winchester.

Included in the project, to be handled by Zipse Paving Company, will be:

- Revamping the Harrison-Salmar intersection to provide Salmar as a route for traffic bound for Highway 17.
- Modifications of part of the City Hall parking lot.
- A new railroad crossing at the loop street and modification of the Campbell ave. crossing to allow one lane of eastbound traffic.
- Eventually, widening and improving the Winchester-Campbell ave. intersection including installing a bus lane in front of Campbell High School



FOR THE next five months several downtown streets will be closed to through traffic during the commute hours of 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. This map released by the Public Works Department shows the construction areas and which streets will be temporarily or permanently closed.

High school district talks

Teachers hold 'silent vigil'

By CARRIE PEYTON

Most of the people at last Tuesday's Campbell Union High School District board meeting attended because they had nothing to say.

They were teachers participating in a "silent vigil" to show support for their contract proposal, according to Michael DuBois, executive officer of the Campbell Education Association (CEA).

The CEA is the local arm of the California Teachers Association (CTA) and the recognized bargaining unit for Campbell teachers.

An audience of nearly 100 sat quietly while the board discussed its regular agenda items. Many wore buttons reading "$100 — count me in," indicating they had con- were addressed as a group only once, by trustee Ray Silva.

"We play to an empty house so often," he quipped, "that we're glad to see someone here."

He said the board is also concerned about the contract, and will proceed "as mandated by law."

"But we'll all feel good when it's over," he added.

"The district knew we were coming," DuBois said. "We just wanted to show them we are together, and that teachers are willing to go to school board meetings, and even dig into their own pockets, to support a fair and equitable contract."

The CEA has been collecting $100 per teacher in voluntary contributions to hire their own negotiator, a drive which began after the CTA refused to provide them with one.

Actual contributions have reached $25,000 and pledges for more could bring the total to more than $30,000, DuBois said. There are about 525 teachers in the district, 330 of them CEA members.

The CEA was expected to hire attorney Bob Townsend as their negotiator within a few days after the board meeting, DuBois said.

Whatever money is not paid in negotiator's salary will be returned to the teachers who gave it.

"The money is a committment on the part of the teachers to say we really believe in our contract proposal," DuBois said. He added that most CEA members do not see the fund-raising as a move hostile to the CTA.

WATER HARDSHIP CASES STUDIED

County supervisors last week voted to set up a "variance permit" system for persons claiming hardships as a result of the new water conservation ordinance. This law, which forbids wasteful use of water, applied only to the unincorporated areas.

One example of a "hardship" case is with the ban on outdoor watering between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. People who work nights have called to complain that they must water during these hours and this is one case where a variance could be issued.

For more information contact the County Environmental Management Agency Planning Department.

SPIVAK SPEAKS OUT

Alvin L. Spivak, transportation systems expert, who'll speak at the De Anza College Energy Expo this Saturday, June 4, blames the automobile for high property taxes.

"Automobile use has been responsible for inflated property tax, inflated sales tax and inflated income tax," Spivak declared. "The rush-hour driver is paying only three per cent of the cost of road facilities that he necessitates."

The Expo is open to the public without charge from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. this Saturday.

NEW CENTER OPENS

The Neuropsychic Healing Center has opened its doors at 915 Meridian ave., near Fruitdale.

According to spokesmen, the Center will offer courses in infant and child care and rearing, spiritual healing, counseling and personality development, among others.

The Center is sponsored by the Neuropsychic Institute of the Church of the Divine Birth and is the third of its kind in the state.

Red skies in the morning

"Red in the morning, sailors warning," goes the phrase and there was plenty of red in the May skies over Campbell. The picture shows storm clouds over Campbell City Hall last week and, before the clouds had blown away, 1.06 inches of rain had fallen during the usually dry May. Total to date is 8.03 inches compared to 5.70 last year and normal rainfall of 15 inches. Drought warnings continue to be issued because, for the Santa Clara Valley, it's a case of too little, too late.

Factory show

Art lovers paradise in Campbell

DON ARNOLDY was one of hundreds of visitors to The Factory recently for the third annual District Art Festival. Local high school artists and craftsmen were featured in the three-day event.

Local students put their best work on display

Over 2,000 students from the eight Campbell Union High School District schools took part in the third annual art show at The Factory.

Billed as the best show yet by Coordinator John Quigley of the school district, the event also featured more cash awards than ever.

Top three spots for The Factory awards, and $25, went to Cliff Watts of Camden high school, art; Scott Rice of Prospect, crafts and Adelfa Faz of Campbell, photography. Watts submitted an abstract oil landscape while Rice displayed his pottery. Faz's picture was a bridge water scene.

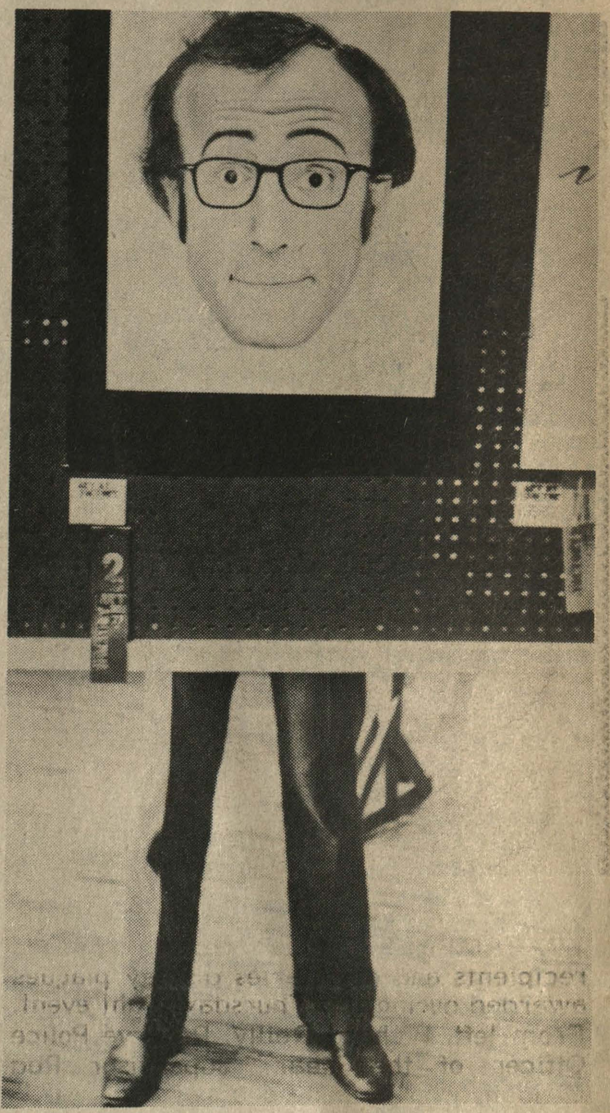
Charity Lodge 362, Free and Accepted Masons gave a total of nine awards for the show. First place, and $50, went to Ann Ramey of Campbell, art; Jan Ontko of Prospect, crafts and Joan Iwata of Blackford, photography.

Second place winners who also received $25 were: Dan Wilson, Westmont, art; Tom Connor, Westmont, crafts and Brian Thompson, Campbell, photography.

Cambrian Lion's Club also named winners in the three divisions including: Mike Portwood, Westmont, art; Tom Kahl, Prospect, crafts and Jacquie Chappell, Westmont, photography.

Serving as judges were James Lovera, San Jose State University professor; Charles Hilger, professional artist and instructor at the University of California at Santa Cruz and Sandra Johnstone, well known local potter.

WESTMONT'S Jazz Band was one of three musical groups that performed during the art show.



A festival-goer gives this surrealistic look to the Woody Allen drawing as he studies some art work on the other side of the display board.

Stay clear of that 'friendly' skunk this year: It could be rabid and looking for a drink

Each year many people have to undergo the painful anti-rabies series of shots after being bitten by a wild or domestic animal.

Summer months are approaching and once again residents are warned that Santa Clara County is a rabies endemic area, according to Dr. Mark Clark, deputy director of the health department.

While there have been no reported rabies cases in domestic animals in the county since 1945, Dr. Clark warns that this dry year might produce greater danger from wild animals as they come into the more populated areas looking for water. So far this year the number of rabies cases is low, five bats, she added.

In deciding whether or not to seek the rabies treatment, a prime consideration is the circumstances of the bite.

If the incident was provoked by the human, rabies would not normally be a consideration. But, if an animal such as a skunk, fox or bat seeks out human contact, it is usually an indication of rabies. Bites by small rodents, such as squirrels, field mice or rabbits do not involve rabies in California, Dr. Clark said.

Anyone observing a suspicious animal should follow a set procedure, according to Neal Bohnet, chief of the county animal control division. Do not try to capture the animal but observe its behavior and report the information to animal control at 288-8700.

All animal bites, both domestic and wild, should be reported to animal control. Bites are investigated and the animal is observed to determine whether it is rabid.

So if your picnic is interrupted this year by a skunk bent on making friends, stay clear of the creature and contact authorities.

Police awards

Energetic educator honored at annual police banquet

By ED SOUZA

Citing her as a "driving force in Campbell and a source of great energy," Campbell Police Chief Donald Burr named Gerry Lee Cunningham the 1977 Citizen of the Year at the annual Campbell Police Community Recognition Dinner last Thursday night.

Cunningham, who is the Dean of Girls at Campbell High School, shared honors with Paul Schommer named police officer of the year and Richard E. Reilly named reserve officer of the year.

In addition to her being named Citizen of the Year, Cunningham was presented special citations from Supervisor Rod Diridon and a representative from the office of State Senator Jerry Smith.

Chief Burr lauded Cunningham for her many activities that involved Campbell High's students. Among these were involvement with numerous scholarship presentations, coordinating the student foreign exchange program, serving as public relations representative for the Campbell High School District and serving as a speech consultant to numerous political figures.

Cunningham, who graduated from San Jose State University in 1966, taught speech at Wilcox, Blackford and Prospect High schools before being named Dean of Girls in 1969. She recently was named administrative assistant to the superintendent of the Morgan Hill School District.

Upon accepting the award she reminisced her tenure as Dean of Girls. Recalling the first time she dealt with the police responding to a campus problem, Cunningham said she was shocked at the sight of a uniformed policeman on campus. When she saw that "green suit" she thought "policemen all over must really be rotten."

Ms. Cunningham added that she came to Campbell thinking police were people to be afraid of. I now realize the cop out there has a wife and family and is not just a uniform."

The Morgan Hill-bound administrator described her selection as citizen of the year as "the most fantastic sendoff I could ever imagine."

3-2 vote on second go-round

Council turns down house moving plans

BOB RAFFANTI won't be moving a house from 235 Pine st. to the back lot of 106 E. Rincon ave. the City Council decided last week on a 3-2 vote.

The Planning Commission twice recommended approval of the local businessman's petition. That request was sent back to planners last month after an aerial map of the Rincon ave. property indicated a large tree would have to be removed for the project. That tree was later found to be located on an adjacent lot. The Commission again recommended approval.

But last week Councilman Rusty Hammer said the tree was just one of his concerns. I don't feel this plan adequately conforms to the planned development (P.D.) zoning, Hammer explained.

PLANNING DIRECTOR Art Kee pointed out that a home on that vacant parcel would be in keeping with the present land use of the neighborhood but Hammer wasn't moved.

"One reason I voted for the PD zone," he declared, "was because of the hodge podge (on E. Rincon ave.)."

Councilman Dean Chamberlin said he felt the plan was good since it would be removing an "eyesore" (the house on Pine) and relocating and remodeling it at the second location.

E. Rincon ave. now has many deep lots with homes located in the front and back. That development came however, before the PD zone went into effect two years ago.

Councilman Ralph Doetsch made a motion to uphold the Planning Commission's recommendation for approval. That failed by a 2-3 vote.

HAMMER MOVED for denial, seconded by Councilman Norm Paul. That passed with Paul, Hammer and Mayor Bill Podgorsek in favor and Doetsch and Chamberlin opposed.

Along with the denial the Council later added an explanation that the plans "did not clearly demonstrate the proposed development would result in a more desirable use of the land than would be possible under other permissible zoning classifications."

Consultant named for creek project

Rappattoni and Associates was picked last week from among 10 firms as consulting engineers for Phase II of the Los Gatos Creek Park project.

The City Council authorized entering into an agreement with the firm for work not to exceed $13,000.

Public Works Director Joe Elliott reported Rapattoni had proposed the lowest cost for the park project but that this was not the primary reason for his department's recommending the firm.

Moreland transfers administrators

Three school administrators in the Moreland district have received new appointments for the 1977-78 school year.

Donald Hurst has been named Coordinator of the Instructional Materials Center and half-time principal at Amber Drive School.

Amber Principal Roy Simmons has been reassigned to Payne School as principal, replacing Lauren Amadah who resigned effective June 30 to participate in the Congractual Service Program as a district consultant.

Douglas Reinecki, Strawberry Park principal for two years, will serve as half-time principal and half-time teacher.

A couple of kids

There were kids of all kinds at the Campbell library last week as the afterschool special presented a program on goats. Two 4-H club members brought goats of all sizes, from one month old Angel, above, being held by five-year-old Jim Blankenbaker, to a full-grown nannygoat. The 50 kids got along great with the "kids" librarian Dolly Barnes reports, except for a few who stood too close and got their shoelaces nibbled on. Next Tuesday, June 7, it's the last special for the school year at 4 p.m. with youthful mimes, magicians and gymnasts performing.

Climbing down the pay scale

Pay cuts will no longer accompany promotions in the Campbell Union School District, the board of trustees decided Thursday night.

Five persons had been promoted to lower paying jobs in the school district in 1976, according to Ron Rescigno, director of personnel. He recommended that the board pay them all retroactively, at one salary step higher than they would have received in previous, non-management jobs.

Rescigno said the action, which the board took unanimously, will keep the district "competitive" in the market for good school administrators.

The new policy will cost the district $6,511 this year.

Seniors will go to Marine World

Reservations are now available for anyone 55 years of age or older for a trip to Marine World, Africa U.S.A.

Friday, June 17 is the deadline for reservations at Community Services, 75 N. Central Avenue. Price of $5.50 includes entrance to Marine World and transportation.

The bus will leave at 9 a.m. and return at 4:30 p.m. on Friday, June 24. Sign-ups are on a "first come first serve" basis.

For more information call Community Services, 378-8141.

P.E. and social studies changes may be in store

A year less of physical education and more rigorous social studies requirements may be in store for future graduates of Campbell district high schools.

A committee charged by the school board with studying graduation requirements suggested last Tuesday that students take three years of physical education instead of four. It also recommended testing student' knowledge of social studies skills, and requiring three years of social studies instead of two for students who do poorly on the test.

Parents, teachers and the public will have a chance to comment on and help revise the recommendations before they are presented to the board for action next fall.

The physical education requirements represent "a happy medium" between the four years now required in Campbell and the new two year state minimum according to Bud Baldwin, chairman of the committee and Campbell high principal.

He said it is not necessarily a step toward making P.E. required for only two years in the future. Ninety to 92 per cent of the students would probably take the course if it weren't required, Baldwin said. The estimate is based on a survey of students at Campbell schools and a study of other schools with optional P.E.

The graduation committee also is studying how to conform with the Hart Act, a state law that requires local school districts to establish minimum standards for all graduates.

Bid to revamp junior high

A Cupertino firm has been hired by the Campbell Union School District to get Campbell junior high ready for about 300 former Blackford students.

Hall Construction Co. submitted the low bid of $309,538 to improve physical education rooms and equipment, and bring in four portable classrooms.

Total cost for the project is expected to run $321,364, or about $3,900 under the architects' estimate.

The CUSD board of trustees accepted the bid Thursday night, noting they were "delighted" with the low cost.

We hear you

I can't believe it's legal to have cat traps. Why, if that's so why can't people just trap any animal? I have cats and they're house cats too. But, once in a while one will get out and I'd hate to think it could get caged up like that just for walking in someone's yard.

CAT LOVER

Editor's note: It's legal alright. In fact, the Humane Society rents out cat traps. Last week a Campbell couple wrote an open letter to Supervisor Rod Diridon about their continuing problem with a woman who traps cats. He responded to the PRESS that traps are legal and that he felt it was a problem among neighbors. He offered to meet with both parties to try and reach an understanding.

How come the streets are only being cleaned once a month? The streets are getting a lot dirtier.

CONCERNED RESIDENT

Editor's note: The City Council recently directed the Public Works Department to cut back on street sweeping operations to conserve water usage. Residential service was cut back from once a week to once every three weeks and commercial sweeping from twice to once a week. That new schedule just went into effect two or three weeks ago so you're just now starting to notice the difference. Charlene Case, administrative aide, reports she's started to receive calls about this in the past week. Most people, she says, wonder if the street sweeping machine broke down or if the workers are on vacation.

I've heard that you can't sell beer in John Morgan Park on the Fourth of July this year? How come?

LOCAL CLUB MEMBER

Editor's note: You never could sell alcoholic beverages at the park. People are allowed to bring their own wine or beer (no hard liquor) that day but sales are specifically prohibited. By the way, if it was allowed, there'd have to be a drawing to see which group got the beer concession rights. Sign-ups for other food or game booths are now being taken for local non-profit groups. Reporting does not fit community needs

EDITOR:

The enclosed headline from the PRESS will explain the reason I will not renew my subscription.

At about 8:20 p.m. on Thursday evening when I finished marking and recording school papers, I sat down to read the paper and was greeted by this sub-headline. It was one of three articles on the page concerning hours, working conditions and money related to educators.

I fail to see how this kind of reporting can adequately serve the needs of the community.

A credit to the teaching profession

EDITOR:

In today's diversified society it isn't often when 40 parents wholeheartedly and without reservation agree upon and praise a teacher.

We parents live in Union School District. The principal at Carlton school has let our children's teacher go. They call this involuntary transfer. The only way we see it; it's a cop-out or an internal political play. Why?

Because this is a dedicated teacher who has given our children a good, constantly improving school year. We have seen our children being educated, learning their skills and bringing test scores up, something Union School District needs desperately.

A teacher gets results from her pupils and we parents have seen results. This is an educator, not just someone who has a teaching credential. Mrs. Zoe Custlin is a credit to the teaching profession.

Our school administrators only give lip service. They ride the fence most of the time. When a decision is to be made, they leave it until the last minute so that maybe they'll slide it by and no one will question the intent.

It has become more obvious as this type of procedure continues over this state, that school administrators don't give a damn about the children or their parents.

HOW TO LOSE 10 BROWNIE POINTS

San Jose City Councilman Jim Self had several funny remarks to say in his appearance before the West San Jose branch of the San Jose Chamber of Commerce last week. And one of them could get him in big trouble locally.

A person, who was in favor of having the Cherry Lane area of San Jose annexed to Campbell, argued that the area in question was bordered on three sides by the Orchard City.

"If that's the argument," Self remarked, "why should Campbell exist. After all, it's bordered on all sides by San Jose?"

STEAMING up for its trip back across country is Engine 4449, the historic steam engine. Most people think it's an old engine, Mike Kotowski says, but it was built in 1941, the same year he was born.

The ride of a lifetime for a Campbell artist in love with locomotives

CAMPBELL'S Mike Kotowski may never fly to the moon but he recently had an experience just as exciting to him. Serving as fireman on "The Daylight, the historic steam engine used to pull the Freedom Train on its bicentennial trek through 48 states.

The local graphic artist has been crazy about trains since childhood in Michigan when he used to draw pictures of the engines and trade them to the train crew for free rides.

Since then he's kept that interest and is a noted railroad artist as well as active in the California Central Model Railroad Club. He also served as general chairman of the model railroad convention held in San Jose recently. During its year long trek the Freedom Train was viewed by an estimated 40 million people, while 7½ million went through the cars to view the historic exhibits.

During its stop in San Jose in December of 1975, Mike was in charge of exhibits and then rode on the train from San Jose to Fresno.

THE BIG thrill for Mike though, came this year when he traveled to Birmingham, Alabama and helped the volunteers rebuild the engine and start on its journey back home to Portland.

On that trip back last month Mike took the controls from Salinas till the Daylight neared San Jose.

"It's totally exciting to be one of the few younger people who ever fired a daylight locomotive," Mike declared. And number 4449 is the only engine left that used to pull the daylight between Los Angeles and San Francisco. That 481 ton, 5,500 horsepower engine can reach speeds of 90 MPH.

While Mike was in Alabama he slept in the crew car parked in a diesel engine yard. Between the whistles and other yard activity, Mike says the crew got about three hours sleep a night.

AND THE engine's triumphant return to San Jose April 27 was a slightly tarnished affair.

Chugging up from San Luis Obispo, the engine traveled through tunnels that hadn't accomodated a steam engine in 20 years. "There was about a half a foot of lampblack built up over the years from the diesels," Mike explained," ad we steam cleaned every tunnel."

When the train arrived in San Jose, it, and the crew, were solid black.

"People said it looked like the engine hadn't been cleaned in two years and it all happened in five minutes."

The engine later spent a day and a half in Oakland where it was cleaned. "She glittered like a diamond as she pulled out of Oakland," he said.

THE ONLY dangerous incident during Mike's travels occured in Louisiana as the Daylight, tender and crew car came steaming into a station at about 60 MPH. There was a derailment up ahead but the crew was unaware of it. Workers at that station had already switched the Daylight to another track but the safe speed for that crossover was 10 MPH.

"The engineer spotted it and hit the emergency (brakes)," Mike related, "and we slid through at 45." There was some damage to the train and cab but the miracle was that the train managed to stay on the track.

With the engine now in storage in Portland, you'd think Mike's saga comes to an end. But there's still two items of unfinished business.

First, he and other train buffs, are mounting a campaign to see the engine put back in action again. And there may be federal matching funds available for the project.

Finally, Mike's doing an acrylic painting of the Daylight and Engine 759 (a nickel plate locomotive) for Doyle McCormack, the engineer in charge of the Daylight during the year-long journey.

In August Mike and his family will be visiting relatives back east and he plans to drop the painting off to McCormack in Conneaunt, Ohio.

Thirty years later, it's still his way of saying thanks for the ride.

A CREW member aboard the steam engine, which powered the Freedom Train last year, was Mike Kotowski (in doorway) of Campbell. Shown with him, foreground, is Richard Croll of San Lorenzo (also a crew member) and Engineer Doyle McCormack (in window). This summer Mike will be stopping by McCormack's hometown in Ohio for a visit.

Campbell Museum marks first year

In the first year of operation the Campbell Museum has had nearly 1,000 visitors, some from as far away as Sweden, Tennessee and Maryland.

Thursday, May 26 was the first anniversary of the museum's reopening downstairs in the Campbell public library which is open to the public Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2 to 4 p.m. and by special appointment at other times.

The Benjamin Campbell family bible, old tintypes and clothing of the 1800's are displayed there along with more recent historical fare, such as the giant Campbell soup can that accompanied the 1976 Little League champions to the World Series.

One of the unusual displays, that prompts youngsters and adults alike to call it a gold mining tool, is the walnut huller. There wasn't any gold in these parts during the early days but there was plenty of fruit and the worlds largest prune drying plant.

Another recent addition to the museum is a collection of early photographs from "Swede" Righter, a Campbell athlete who later went on to great fame at Stanford University.

Anyone who lived here during the early 1930's is being sought now by docents to help in identifying pictures taken at the local cannery.

Those who wish to donate items to the collection or to volunteer time to help keep the museum open should contact the Campbell library at 378-8122 or the City Manager's office at 378-8141, weekdays.

One vote for deannexation of Cherry Lane to Campbell

IF RESIDENTS of the Cherry Lane area of San Jose petition to annex to the city of Campbell, they'll have at least one vote on the San Jose City Council.

Jim Self, speaking before the West San Jose branch of the San Jose Chamber of Commerce last Thursday, said he'd vote in favor of that annexation.

"I feel that area rightfully belongs in Campbell," Self said in answer to a question from the floor.

There are about five areas which could benefit from a boundary change in the Campbell area, he added, and for two of these, he feels they'd best be served by San Jose.

OVER THE YEARS several de-annexation drives have been launched in the Cherry Lane area, which is bounded on three sides by Campbell and on the west by San Tomas Aquino road. The giant stumbling block has been the complicated de-annexation procedure required by state law. As an example, the first order of business would be to obtain the signatures of 10 per cent of those San Jose residents who voted in the last election to place the matter on the ballot.

A less complicated, but politically difficult, alternative, would be to get a favorable vote on the matter from both the Campbell and San Jose city councils.

CAMPBELL HAS always been in favor of acquiring that area and, in the post-annexation war period, took the Cherry Lane issue to court.

The State Attorney General finally ruled that San Jose had erred in scooping up that area at the time it was predominantly orchard land. But it was too late, he added, to change it.

What the city of Campbell won was a moral victory with the status quo maintained.

Self said Thursday he feels other San Jose city officials may agree with him regarding the Cherry Lane area but wasn't going to count any votes ahead of time.

IF THAT AREA was to be "traded," with the consent of property owners involved, an agreement would have to be worked out over bond issues in the two cities. Cherry Lane residents would, no doubt, have to continue to pay for San Jose bonds previously approved while they would be exempt from Campbell bond issues passed before they were part of the city.

But all that may be a little premature. First there has to be three more "yes" votes on the San Jose City Council.

An angry reaction to 77-78 teacher contract proposals

By CARRIE PEYTON

Campbell elementary school teachers must think "they are in the promised land," according to the only parent who spoke during a public hearing on the teachers' contract proposal.

Jack Healey, of 1791 Grace Ave. told the Board of Trustees Thursday night that the proposal "insults my intelligence, and demeans a lot of fine teachers."

He complained teachers working a six-hour day would work only 58 per cent of the hours "the average working man" puts in. "And since I was educated in the '30s and '40s, I trust my math is correct," he added. (The shortened work day was one of dozens of proposals submitted).

Healey also spoke against a proposal that teachers be paid an extra $25 for every student in class over a 25-student limit.

"But what really rankles," he said, "is to have to give the fine teachers the same pay as the incompetent, the indifferent, the ineffectual and the teachers who are intimidated."

The school board is required by law to hear the public on the teachers' proposal, which they received May 12. They will incorporate comments from the hearing, and any written comments, into their response by June 9.

By Friday morning, one written comment had been received by the district administration office.

Trustee Virginia Vaughn said before the meeting that she hoped for a large public turnout because "there are things in it (the proposal) that the public ought to see."

Donna Baird, the board president, said she was surprised that only one person spoke because "I've had a great deal of input on the telephone about the contract."

She said people may have been attending other school functions, such as the one her daughter was in at Dover school the night of the meeting.

Healey said he wasn't concerned that he was the only speaker. "They're a sensible board, and I'm sure they'll give a good response" to the contract proposal, he said.

Rotation plan is dropped by CUHSD BOARD

After thing it over for a month, the Campbell Union High School District board of trustees decided not to set up any mandatory policy of rotating board offices.

A plan, which would have limited terms of office to a year and set up an established rotation order, was abandoned last Tuesday night at the board meeting.

Trustees voted to retain the former policy and create a new elected office, a representative to the Coordinating Council of the Santa Clara County School Board Association. In the past, the position had been filled by the board president.

The new office brings the number of titles on the board to five, which is exactly equal to the number of its members.

Other offices are: president, vice-president, clerk, and representative to the County Committee on School District Organization.

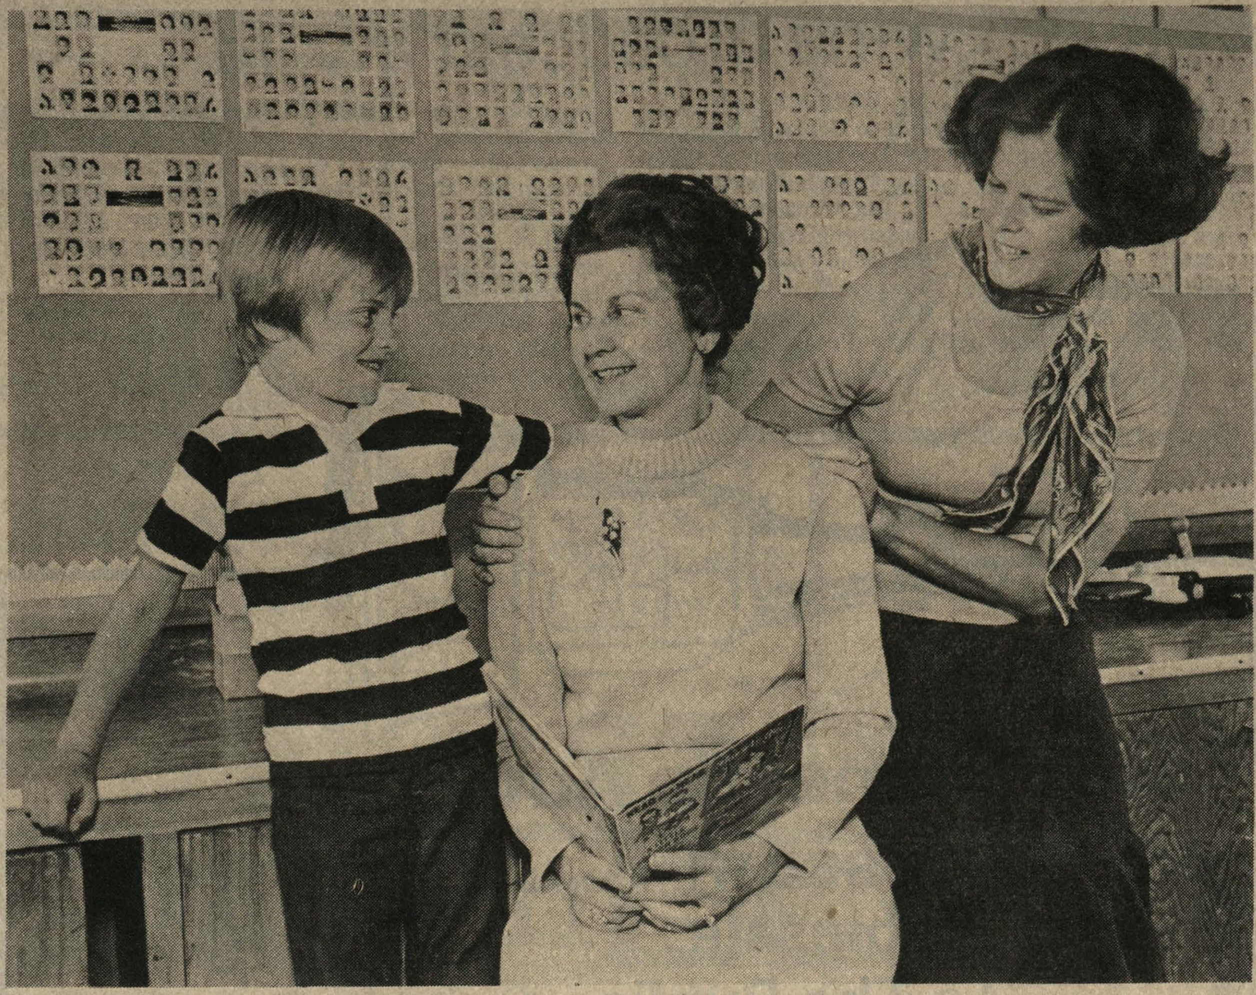
Commission eyes land for future parking lot

IF PLANS FOR a large skating complex on property located next to John D. Morgan Park fall through, city parks and recreation commissioners have another idea for using that land.

Last week the City Council heard the Commission's recommendation which calls for the city purchasing that property for additional parking. Joseph Carlino, one of the property owners, recently obtained a one year extension on plans for the ice and roller skating complex. He cited difficulties with financing as the reason for additional delays in the project.

IN OTHER BUSINESS last week the Council:

- Recommended that Grace Hebard, administrative secretary at West Valley College, be named to the vacancy on the County Library Commission. The local woman, wife of Planning Commissioner Don Hebard, was picked from two applicants for the post by a Civic Improvement Commission committee. The county board of supervisors will make the appointment based on nominations from the cities.
- Held a first reading on pre-zoning property on Pollard road and W. Parr ave. to low-medium residential density. A spokesman for Lands of Perry said, when annexation of the county area to Campbell is completed, a development schedule covering the entire area will be submitted to the city for approval. Subject parcels are 1570, 1580, 1590 and 1600 Pollard rd., and 1201, 1215 and 1225 W. Parr ave.
- Held a public hearing on the expenditure of federal revenue sharing funds for the 1977-78 year. No one appeared to make suggestions on how Campbell should spend its estimated $325,000 in federal funding for the year, plus the $500,000 unexpended from previous allocations. Under new federal guidelines, a minimum of two public hearings must be held before revenue sharing funds can be budgeted. At least part of the funds are expected to be used for north loop street construction costs. The second, and final, hearing will be held the last council session in June.



25 years of 'show and tell'

RETIRING after 25 years as a kindergarten teacher in the Campbell elementary school district is Reva Craig, who spent the last 21 years at Dover school. With her is a present and former student, David Miailovich, 6, and his mother, Nancy Nash Miailovich (class of '54). An open house and reception honoring Mrs. Craig has been planned by the Dover faculty and Home and School Club for Wednesday, June 8, from 6 to 8 p.m. in the multi-use room. Cake and punch will be served and musical entertainment will be provided by former students. The retiring teacher is known for her love of music (she plays the piano and organ) of travel (with her husband, Dr. James Craig of the San Jose State University Science Department) and of orchids (both are members of the Orchid Society). In the 25 years, first at Cypress school and then at Dover, she's taught approximately 1,200 students. Former students and friends are invited to attend the June 8 reception.

These grads will have a free evening or two now

Among June graduates this year are 13 localites who got their bachelor's degrees the hard way; holding down full-time jobs as they studied.

For the past two years the group has been meeting Friday evenings and all day Saturdays in a classroom at Deluxe Check Printers in Campbell and have been putting in plenty of study time on the side.

They'll be receiving their degree in business administration next Sunday, June 5, from Redlands University.

Most of the grads are former West Valley College students who planned to complete their degree program through a local Golden Gate University program. But, when that plan fell through, Redlands agreed to send their instructors to Campbell for the extension program. (Redlands is best known for their on-going nursing degree program offered at local hospitals).

Graduates include: Craig Wegl, Frank Cudia, Fred Parrill, Ralph Pfirrman, Norman Johnson, Howard Califf, Sheldon Shore, Dwayne Reed, Clint Prescott, Rich Drisko, Nelva Jean Shore, Norrie Anderson and Fran Riggar.

KTEH wins broadcast award

A BROADCAST media award has been won by KTEH/Channel 54 for its program "Oral Language Development: Views of Five Teachers."

This program was selected from a field of more than 300 entries. It was written and produced for KTEH/Channel 54 by Louise Henry and directed by David Espar of Veriation Films in Palo Alto.

The broadcast media award is given annually by the faculty and students of the broadcast communications arts department at San Francisco State University. The competition selects the best local programs produced throughout the United States.

"Oral Language Development: Views of Five Teachers" is designed to make preschool and elementary grade teachers aware of the importance of developing children's listening and speaking skills, and to model ways in which teachers can stimulate children's oral language in their classrooms.

For further information contact KTEH/Channel 54 at 299-2754.

Lady Luck after Libra

June 4 Through June 10

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Trouble tends to come in threes, Ari, and you are two down and one to go. Battle is with power-lover. When smoke clears, your talent for turning shoddy into shiny yields crucible filled with gold. Despite ultimate victory, week ends in A-flat. Take hot toddy and go to bed.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Your capacity for business/love increases ten times ten. Past investments pay big dividends. Try a long shot, Taurus. Week ends on key of B for bullish, blue chip and "Baby Gets New Shoes."

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Re-evaluation of self results in positive change. Accept honest criticism. The uncut, unpolished stone is not a gem. On last day friend acts as lapidary and brings out your inner beauty. You sparkle.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): "Money, money, money." That's all you hear this week, Moonbaby. What's more, your purse is flat. Lower your tastes for the very best and take care of necessities. Love peeps around the corner. Indulge. Oh, go ahead, it's free.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Your strange behavior puzzles all but you, Leo. But then, this is part of your "master plan." Mysteries come out in the open only at your discretion. By end of week you discover that tried and true outstrips "flash in the pan". You grow.

VIRGO (Aug. 12-Sept. 22): Bread which you have cast upon the water comes back to you, Virgo, and not just as soggy bread. Your cup spilleth all over the place. Your emotions, run the gamut from A to Z. Week ends with an Xtra, a Yippe and a Zow!

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Lady Luck pursues you on rare occasions, and Lib, and this is one of them. You have lucky week. Leave avenues open for the Lady to travel on. Also doors, windows and transomes. Week ends with a giggle.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): The Dance (so stately,) continues. You circle alternatives. One "alternative" drops out of the circle and then there are three. Battle may ensue as others observe. As week draws to a close, play it safe. Stay home in your "frying pan" for a move now could send you straight "to blazes."

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): An elusive butterfly has finally landed on your flower, Saj, but please bring the net down slowly. You usually make all the right moves, but this week you may have tendency to move too quickly. This is one race that won't go to the swift.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Distant plans are out of focus. Puzzle will be solved in next quarter. Fight your natural tendency to tackle confusion head on, Cap. Lay back. Week ends with an audible sigh.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Energy drain is on as planets shift. Health is number one concern. Everything seems to be acting up; old war wounds, football knees, the bathroom scales. You feel under appreciated and overwhelmed. On last day, Aquari, you come out of the bog and into the sunshine. Finally.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You meet yourself coming and going, Pisces, and always with someone different. Keep it light. Important project needs full attention mid-week. Old friends with old money are your best bet. Save diversions for time when position is more solid.

Governor's grades

Governor Edmund Brown, Jr., was given a low grade by liberals in a poll released recently by Americans for Democratic Action (ADA). The 1,215 respondents ranked Brown at 6.1 on a scale of one (low to 10 (high).

"The results were in sharp contrast to the strong support Brown received from liberals in his 1974 gubernatorial bids," ADA Executive Director Shirley Wechsler noted.

Wechsler noted Brown has twice the Republican support Democrat incumbent state officers usually have. "But, historically, Republican support substantially diminishes once the Republicans nominate a candidate," she added.

Raising profile

Assemblyman Ken Maddy (R-Fresno), considered by some to be the sleeper candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, is beginning to take a higher profile in the campaign.

A committee called the Agricultural Friends of Ken Maddy was recently formed with Senator Bob Nimmo (R-Atascadero) as chairman. Other legislators on the committee include Senator Ray Johnson (R-Chico), Assemblymen Gene Chappie (R-Sacramento), Gordon Duffy (R-Hanford), Jerry Lewis (R-Redlands), Stan Statham (R-Chico) and Bill Thomas (R-Bakersfield), and Assemblywoman Carol Hallet (R-San Luis Obispo).

Hoover target

The next target of California's watchdog, the Little Hoover Commission, will be school districts that purchase land for school sites then fail to build the schools.

According to the commission's figures, 170 districts have removed an aggregate of 12,500 acres from the property tax rolls but have not built the 835 schools planned for those sites.

Taxpayer suit

Two elderly women have filed a lawsuit against the state on the grounds the Franchise Tax Board is illegally denying renter's refunds to Federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) recipients.

Under current California income tax laws, renters are allowed a $37 credit against taxes owed or a $37 cash refund if no tax is owed. Renters receiving public assistance based in part on housing needs are not eligible for the refund.

The Franchise Tax Board has interpreted that provision to include an estimated 180,000 SSI recipients, primarily elderly and disabled Californians. The plaintiffs contend, however, the SSI grants are based solely on income and not on housing needs.

The suit is a class action filed by Dahlia Miner, of Los Angeles, and Esther Lann, of Sacramento. It asks the court to declare the board's denial illegal and to direct the board to issue refunds to 10,000 SSI recipients who filed for them in 1975, 1976 and 1977.

Smokers' cost

A bill to increase California's Cigarette Tax by three cents a pack has passed the senate revenue and Taxation Committee.

The measure, SB 587, is predicted to raise an estimated $90 million a year in additional revenue if signed into law. According to the bill's author, Senator Bob Wilson (D-La Mesa), the additional funding will aid lung and heart disease research projects.

"I think it is fitting that an extra tax on cigarettes now, which would cost the average smoker less than a dollar a month, might save the life of that same smoker later," Wilson said.

By DOROTHY TERRILL

EDITOR'S NOTE — Dorothy Terrill, a registered dietitian and instructor at De Anza College, holds a M.S. in nutrition from UC, Berkeley. Questions about nutrition are invited. Address all questions to Dorothy Terrill, Nutrition Notes, Suburban Newspaper Publications, Inc., P.O. Box 368, Cupertino, 95014. Mrs. Terrill will answer questions as space allows.

VITAMIN D is one vitamin that people don't worry about too much. After all, we do get it from the sun, don't we?

People who spend some time in the sun do obtain vitamin D as a result of the exposure of the ultraviolet light on the skin. The vitamin is formed on the skin and gradually absorbed into the blood. Some fairly recent studies show that if you swim or wash too soon after sunbathing, you can wash off a large amount of the vitamin. Of course, too much exposure to the sun is not wise due to the danger of skin cancer.

Vitamin D is needed to prevent rickets in children and osteomalacia in adults.

Rickets is a disease of weak bones which bend when a child learns to walk. The leg bones are not strong enough to support the child's body and the child becomes bowlegged. This is the most obvious sign of the disease. Muscles and teeth are also affected when there is a vitamin D deficiency. The deficiency occurs most commonly in infants who live in a climate where they are exposed to little sun during their early life and are not given a vitamin D supplement.

OSTEOMALACIA is adult rickets. It occurs most frequently in women who have little exposure to sun and who go through repeated pregnancies and breast feed their babies. Their bones may soften so much that the woman becomes bowlegged and stopped. Other symptoms are pain in the pelvis, lower back, and legs.

Both of these conditions can be prevented with an adequate intake of vitamin D and calcium. Vitamin D is added to milk at the rate of 400 I.U. per quart. Children and adults who drink milk receive enough vitamin D. Other foods are not high in vitamin D with the exception of fish liver oils.

Many readers may remember taking cod liver oil daily when they were children. This was a case where "mother knew best" even though the child wanted to spit out the horrible tasting stuff! Vitamin D is routinely given infants and very young children now so they don't have the opportunity to experience the cod liver oil ritual.

AN OVERDOSE of vitamin D can be easily obtained by an overenthusiastic vitamin taker. Intakes of 4,000 I.U. per day by infants can cause high blood calcium levels. Sometimes less than this is toxic to some babies. Ten thousand I.U. are toxic to children and some adults. While there is little danger of obtaining excess in foods, either pills or fish liver oils can produce an overdose. The excess vitamin D can cause too high a concentration of calcium in the blood. This excess calcium forms kidney stones and may cause hardening of the blood vessels, particularly in the heart and lungs, resulting in eventual death.

Adequate vitamin D will be obtained in milk and some exposure to sunlight. Most adults do not need supplements. Children beyond a year of age are likely to obtain sufficient vitamin D from milk and sun. Use care in supplements — follow your doctor's orders. As with most vitamins, if a little vitamin D is good, more will not be better! Stay away from the pitfalls of overdose.

County to offer water use variance

COUNTY government is preparing to issue "variance permits" for persons claiming hardships as a result of the county's new water conservation ordinance.

The ordinance applies only to the unincorporated areas and forbids any wasteful use of water. Outdoor watering is forbidden during the daylight hours of 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. except for fire suppression and similar purposes.

The variance permits can be obtained by contacting the County Environmental Management Agency's Planning Department at 70 W. Hedding st., San Jose, or the Environmental Health Services, 2220 Moorpark ave., Room 100, San Jose.

The simple application form requires anyone claiming a variance to give a short statement of the nature of their hardship. There is no fee for a permit.

By MIKE TATEM

HOW MANY times have you wanted to have duplicate slides to use in a slide show or to send to relatives far away? You can duplicate your own slides in a number of ways and have a lot of fun at the same time.

The two best methods for making duplicate slides are to use the Honeywell Pentax slide copier — an accessory mounted on bellows in which the slide is rephotographed using your own camera — or have professionals do it through your local photo dealer. Professionals will provide exact duplicates of the original slide, but this takes out all of the creativity and the fun of experimenting with reproductions.

For example: a beautiful slide of Yosemite Valley could be more interesting if we could get better framing in the foreground with some pine needles. Or a picture of the Grand Canyon might be better if we could add the moon. There are several methods that can be used to do this.

TO ADD something to a slide we need two slides that can be superimposed to create one better picture. This can be pine needles against a clear sky, for example, or even a picture of the moon in a clear sky that can be added to the Grand Canyon picture. It can also be interesting patterns of lace, screens or other designs that will overlay a picture to enhance the subject interest.

The single-lens-reflex camera is ideal for slide duplication of another type — photographing a projected picture from the screen — because it eliminates the parallax problem with the through-the-lens-viewing. The trick here is to have the lens at approximately the same angle as the projector so that the scene in the viewfinder is not distorted. The most effective method is to use a tripod that allows the image on the screen to be photographed without distortion. By moving the camera close to the screen it is possible to crop a picture so that only the best composition is reproduced. A longer focal length lens will produce the same results without your having to move the camera.

SLIDES CAN be copied from screen projection at actual size by carefully lining up the projected frame with the viewfinder frame, or they can be copied closer to the screen, or with a longer focal length lens for selectivity. There is no advantage in photographing a projected slide that takes up less than the full frame because this only reduces the copied image, and leaves blank areas on the copy.

When projecting a slide for copying one will get good results from the new 64-speed Agfachrome film. Use the light meter reading from the camera for each slide to be copied, because light intensity is different for each one.

The first step is to make sure that the slide, projector lens and screen are free from spots or other distracting residue such as lint, hair or pieces of dust. Remove these particles from slides with a clean camel's hair brush. Next, set up the projector and camera (on tripod) so that the camera is as close to the axis of the projected beam as possible. This will help avoid distortion in the duplicate slide. Also, it is important to work in a darkened room so that reflected light doesn't wash out the projection.

FOR SUPERIMPOSING one subject on another, project both slides in the position desired for the final subject. This can be done using the two slides in a single frame, or it can be done with two projectors.

By using colored gels over the projector lens, interesting color distortions are also possible — a scenic day shot can become a night shot.

(LIMITED TIME OFFER)

SIMPLE

Buy one of these 4.5 through 20-horsepower Merc fishing engines (including our three electric start models) before June 30 . . . and we'll give you a case of the world's finest two-cycle oil, Mercury Quicksilver Formula 50. That's enough for a year's fishing for the average owner.

FOOLPROOF

You can't lose no matter which Merc fishing model you choose. All give you great economy with quick-starting Thunderbolt solid-state capacitor discharge ignition and long lasting Perma Gap plugs. All give you quiet, smooth operation with Jet Prop exhaust and Dyna Float aircraft-type suspension. All give you dependable operation with Merc's famous shock-absorbing propeller hub... the one that absorbs underwater impact . . . and doesn't need an old fashioned shear pin.

Clip this ad from the newspaper and take it to one of the participating dealers listed below.

PICK ANY MODEL

. . . and your hands are free for fishing with Merc's twist-grip throttle and "troll set." Plus "glide angle" design and "shallow water drive" to let you get in where the fish like to hide.

INVEST NOW

A case of Mercury Quicksilver Formula 50 is worth about $20.00 (suggested retail). Mixed at our recommended 50:1 ratio, that's enough for 120 gallons of gas. And the way these Merc's squeeze hours out of every drop, that's a lot of running on our money.

This offer is limited to June 30. Come in now, pick your Merc fishing engine, and let us set you up in the best oil deal you've seen in a long time.

P.S. No law says you can't try to deal with us on these Merc outboards.

NEW MACHINE FOR GOOD SAM

Good Samaritan Hospital has recently put into service a portable artificial kidney machine, according to Administrator Robert K. Kirk.

This acute dialysis unit is used to treat patients whose own kidneys have stopped working or to remove drug poisons from the blood.

The kidney machine is the first in this immediate area. Kirk said.

Patients who require on-going treatment or who will need a kidney transplant are transferred to Valley Medical Center, Stanford University Hospital or the University of California Hospital in San Francisco.

TROT OUT THE TALENT

Applications are now being taken for the amateur talent contests to be held at the 33rd annual Santa Clara County Fair in August.

Competition is divided into four categories: junior, ages five through eight; intermediate I, nine through 12; intermediate II, 13-15; and senior, age 16 through 24.

Auditions will be held Saturday, July 9, for juniors and intermediate I and on Sunday, July 10, for intermediate II and senior.

For more information or applications, contact the Administration Office at 295-3050.

Location change eyed for senior lunch program

The Senior Nutrition Site, which offers low cost hot lunches to local senior citizens, will be moving from Briner Hall to the Grange Hall, city councilmen decided last week.

Main reasons for the proposed change is with improved restroom facilities and air conditioning at the 109 N. First st. Hall.

Barbara Harison reported the city is presently leasing Briner Hall for $460 monthly. The Grange Hall has offered their facilities for $440 while the IOOF Hall asked $625.

The Council unanimously voted to proceed with negotiations for the new site and to look into alterations needed to accommodate the handicapped.

Pet Patrol

HERBIE'S BACK HOME

Last week PET PATROL carried the story of our missing cat and within hours of the paper's delivery we had a call from Charlotte on Rincon ave. who had seen our wanderer. Herbie had been injured and was "hiding out" in a vacant dog house next door. After a trip to the Vet the tabby is back on his feet.

There was one other sidelight to the story. Seems Herbie has been courting Charlotte's cat Sweetie Pie and the feline couple is expecting a blessed event in about two weeks.

P.S. Herbie's going back to the Vet for his "operation."

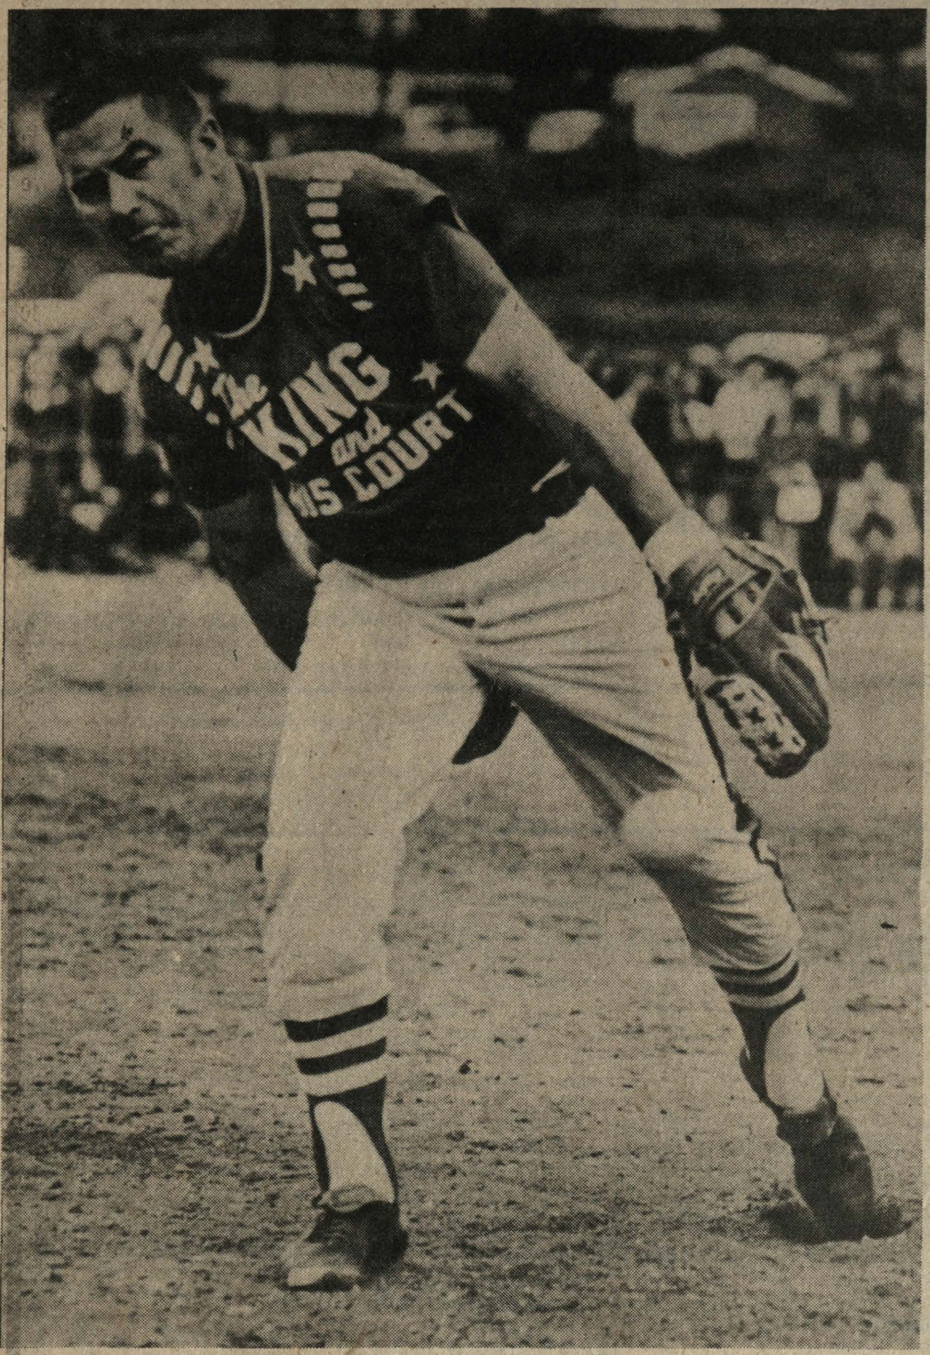
Royalty stops for San Jose visit



THE KING — Eddie Feigner, the King of softball, will be in San Jose Tuesday, June 7, for an exhibition game at San Jose Municipal Stadium. The King and his Court are celebrating their 32nd season of competition in 1977.

Queen, King in San Jose

Members of the royalty set will make a visit to San Jose this week.

No, it's not the Queen of England or the King of Egypt. It won't be the Prince of Wales or the Duchess of Windsor. It won't even be the Duke of Ellington or the Princess of Monaco.

Rather, it will be members of softball royalty making stops in San Jose next week to demonstrate the pitching skills that earned them their royal titles.

The King and His Court and the Queen and Her Maids will be in town for separate appearances on the fields of San Jose.

The Queen, Rosie Black, will be in town with her Maids to take part in the San Jose Police Athletic League Celebrity Softball game on Saturday, June 4, at Spartan Stadium. The game will be at 6 p.m., with pre-game activities beginning at 5 p.m.

Black, with her wide variety of deliveries, will pitch for the Hollywood All-Star team in the benefit game against a Sports World All-Star team.

The King, Eddie Feigner, will come to San Jose three days later to lead his four-man softball team in an exhibition game against a team of UAW All-Stars. The King and His Court will battle the UAW squad on Tuesday, June 7, at 7:30 p.m. at San Jose Municipal Stadium.

THE QUEEN — Rosie Black, star of the Queen and her Maids, will be on hand to pitch in the upcoming PAL Celebrity Softball game Saturday, June 4, at Spartan Stadium. Movie and sports stars will also participate in the game.

Feigner does Hubbell one better, set for SJ visit

By DICK SPARRER
SPORTS EDITOR

IN THE 1934 All-Star game, Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants made baseball history when he cut down the famed Murderer's Row.

Hubbell, in succession, struck out five of the greatest hitters the American League has ever produced — Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Jimmy Foxx, Al Simmons and Joe Cronin!

Some 30 years later, with all those players residing comfortably in baseball's Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, New York, another pitcher was doing Hubbell one better.

A 40-year-old righthander was facing a team composed of All-Stars from both the American and National Leagues.

And all he did was strike-out Willie Mays, Willie McCovey and Maury Wills with the bases loaded. then came back to strike out Harmon Killebrew, Roberto Clemente and Frank Robinson for six in a row.

Certainly those six hitters will all be in Major League baseball's great Hall within the next 30 years. But where will that righthander be? Probably still pitching!

That's right, it was the ageless Eddie Feigner who struck out the famous Major Leaguers with his wide variety of deliveries, pitching a softball.

IT WAS MORE than 10 years ago when Feigner turned that trick in an all-star softball game. And the greatest pitcher softball has ever produced is still going strong.

Feigner, with his famed "King and His Court" softball troupe, will be in San Jose next week, for a Tuesday, June 7, exhibition game against the UAW All-Stars at 7:30 p.m. at San Jose Municipal Stadium.

The internationally known hurler brings his incredible four-man softball team into San Jose as he competes in his 32nd softball season.

First sacker Al Jackson, shortstop Gary West and catcher Eddie Feigner jr. join softball's greatest pitcher in the four-man show.

Feigner has won a remarkable 4,750 games as the "King," including an incredible 187 straight at one time. By the end of the 1977 season, he'll top the 100,000 mark in strike-outs and he's recorded almost 20,000 of them while pitching blindfolded!

The blindfolded pitch is just one of many unique deliveries Feigner displays in one of his exhibitions. He also pitches behind his back, between his legs and from second base.

Feigner, who once pitched 57 games in 41 days and won them all without a day off, isn't the only star on the four-man squad.

JACKSON HAS HIT more home runs in his 17 year career as a member of the Court than even Henry Aaron. In 1973 Jackson crushed an unbelievable 94 homers and in 1972 set a record by stepping to the plate more than 400 times without striking out.

West is the club comedian but there's no joke about the way he plays softball. The shortstop, who was the quarterback for the 1960 National Championship football team at Long Beach City College, often accounts for three or four homers a game for the Court.

Eddie jr. handles the chores behind the plate and also fills in for his dad to do a little pitching when the need arises. He was a three letter man in high school, playing football, basketball and baseball before joining the Court.

The softball troupe, that has played in every one of the 50 states as well as internationally, will be in San Jose for the 7:30 p.m. game Tuesday after games in San Mateo and Vallejo over the weekend.

Admission to the game is $2.50 for adults and $6 for a family of four. No seats are reserved and fans are advised to arrive early for the better seats.

Feigner won't be striking out any Hall of Famers in San Jose on Tuesday, but it's a sure bet he'll be striking out someone!

Anyway, he's already struck out members of the Hall of Fame set. And someday maybe they'll even build Feigner his own Hall of Fame — just for him. But of course, that will be years from now, if he ever retires!

Queen leads celebrities in benefit softball game

By DICK SPARRER
SPORTS EDITOR

SPORTS CELEBRITIES generally have a way with the ladies. The stars of the sports world usually have their pick of the girls and seldom strike out when they meet face-to-face with a pretty blonde.

Well, a group of rugged athletes from the National Football League and the National Basketball Association have a date with a pretty blonde and three of her attractive friends this Saturday night.

But no matter how their love-lives have been in the past, those sports celebrities better be prepared to strike-out on Saturday — because that's just what they're going to do!

The date will be the San Jose Police Athletic League Celebrity Softball Game on Saturday, June 4, at Spartan Stadium in San Jose. And the pretty blonde and her friends are none other than the Queen and Her Maids!

The Queen, Rosie Black, one of the most celebrated women softball pitchers in the world, will be flipping her trick pitches for the Hollywood All-Stars against the Sports World All-Stars in the 6 p.m. game at Spartan, with pre-game activities beginning at 5 p.m.

The Queen will be firing her pitches behind her back, between her legs and blindfolded when she tries to strike-out a team of tough athletes.

DERREK DICKEY of the Golden State Warriors will represent the NBA on the Sports World team and members of the NFL will join him.

Ralph McGill of the San Francisco 49er's, Steve Bartkowski of the Atlanta Falcons, Mike Boryla of the Philadelphia Eagles, Bob Lee of the Minnesota Vikings, Frank Johnson of the Los Angeles Rams, Don Milan of the Green Bay Packers, Ted Kwalik of the Oakland Raiders, Steve DeBerg of the Dallas Cowboys, Dan Pastorini of the Houston Oilers, Craig Penrose of the Denver Broncos and Craig Morton of the Denver Broncos will join Dickey on the team.

Hollywood stars lined up for the game include Kevin Dobson of Kojak, James Farentino, Peter Graves, Lawrence "Boom Boom Washington" Jacobs of Welcome Back Kotter, Stacy Keach, Peter Marshall of Hollywood Squares, Rod Steiger, Anson Williams of Happy Days, Greg Sierra of Sanford and Son, Vic Tayback of Alice and Jackson Bostwick and Mike Gray of Captain Marvel and Shazam.

Admission to the game is $3 for all those five years old and over. A special $50 ticket can be purchased that includes free parking inside the stadium, a ticket, a program and an invitation to a cocktail party with the stars.

Tickets are available at the PAL and KNTV-Channel 11 offices on Park ave. in San Jose, the San Jose Box Office and all BASS ticket outlets. For information call 277-4PAL.

PAL grid sign-ups

PAL FOOTBALL sign-ups in the Campbell area are currently being held.

The Northwest Youth Athletic Club will hold sign-ups at Mill junior high school June 25 and July 16, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and July 23, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For further information call 244-0392.

For information regarding the Campbell Beret sign-ups contact either Steve Berg (866-8030), Merv Mack (377-6494) or Jack Mordick (378-5907).

Gaters face Russians

THE GOLDEN GATERS of World Team Tennis will take on a team of Russian players three times in June and July. The Gaters will battle the Soviets Wednesday in Norfolk, Virginia; Thursday, in Kansas City, Missouri; and Tuesday, July 19, at the Oakland Coliseum. All three games will be broadcast over KNBR radio (68) beginning at 8:05 p.m.

Breuners shares 1st half crown

By JOHN VAUGHN

A TIE FOR first place was created when Brueners and Fontanetti's finished off their tie game Sunday, brining the first half of the Campbell Little League season to a close.

Brueners slipped by Fontanetti's 2-0. Brueners is now tied with D's Automotive for the championship of the first half. The deciding game will be played at the finish of the second half.

In the standings, D's Automotive and Brueners tied at 10-4, Fontanetti's was 6-5-1, Moose was 6-7, Willow Glen Optimist was 6-8, Robins was 5-9, Campbell Plaza was 4-10, and Doetsch Building was 3-9-1.

Royal Brass Incorporated finished first in the minor league standings followed by Campbell Optimist, Elite Cleaners, Sir Speedy Printing, San Jose Optimist, Campbell Kiwanis, Campbell Rotary and Winchester Theaters.

Fabro Engineering took first place in the farm standings with a 10-4 record. Fire Department and Straw Hat Pizza finished in a tie for second with 9-4 marks. Shepardson Realty took fourth with a 5-8 record followed by Police Department at 4-9 and Man of Today at 3-10.

Bondi in a valley first, pitches slow pitch softball no-hitter

LOU BONDI sat in shock after he finished pitching a softball game in the Los Gatos A division on Monday, May 23. He couldn't believe what he had just done!

It seems that the right handed hurler who has been pitching for the last four years for the Fly Swatters in the Los Gatos league had just thrown his first no-hitter.

So what's so unusual about that? No-hitters are thrown all the time in fast-pitch softball. Well, the unusual thing about this no-hitter is that Bondi doesn't play fast-pitch — he flipped his no-no playing slow-pitch softball!

That's right. Bondi did what no one in the valley has ever been able to do — throw a slow-pitch no-hitter.

And Bondi's brilliant effort didn't just come against a lower division club in the Los Gatos ranks — he turned the trick in the league's first half championship game.

Bondi no-hit previously unbeaten Spraytronics to help the Air-Flo of California Swatters to a 7-0 victory. The win left the Swatters tied with Spraytronics for the first half title, both teams at 5-1.

Bondi faced the minimum in his no-hit, no-run effort, facing just 21 batters in the seven inning game. Two runners reached base but both were eliminated on fine defensive plays.

Mike Herauf and Dave Mendonca each made sparkling catches in the outfield and Virg Aldag turned a fine catch in center into a double-play with a strong throw to first baseman Pat Comstock in the fourth.

Second baseman Skip Houston and shortstop Randy Stoehr each made dazzling defensive plays on ground balls to help preserve Bondi's no-hitter.

Mitchell earns most valuable honors in WVAL

WES MITCHELL, who was unscored upon in his final six relief appearances of the season, walked away with Most Valuable Player honors recently at the coaches' annual all-West Valley Athletic League baseball meeting.

Mitchell, who was tabbed to the first team infield, was 2-0 with four saves in addition to batting a lofty .412. Mitchell was one of seven Campbell Buccaneers to earn first or second team honors.

Joining Mitchell on the first team was pitcher Mike Sullivan (7-1, 1.38 earned run average), infielder Mark Ryan (.333), outfielders Cliff Judd (.327) and Mark Raust (.341) and designated hitter Brian Bagley (.393).

Outfielder Steve Tindall nabbed second team honors after hitting .317 for the champion Bucs.

Rounding out the first team were Blackford's Jerry Gutierrez and Mike Turnwall, Leigh's Steve McGarry, Kevin Cannon, Bob Boyd and Rick Corbett, Del Mar's Eric Richesin and Yogi Taylor, and Branham's Mark Triplett.

Turnwall led the WVAL in hitting this year with a lusty .498 batting mark, one of eight WVAL regulars to hit over .400.

Other .400 hitters included Corbett (.444), Richesin, (.440), Taylor (.438), Cannon (.420), Mitchell (.412), Branham's Kirt Kentera (.410) and Del Mar's Jim Door (.400).

Mets suffer first Bobby Sox defeat

By JEFF WAGNER

THE FIRST HALF IS, or will be over soon for the three local Bobby Sox leagues. West Valley and Moreland had their mid-season break last week while Campbell has its on June 1st.

CAMPBELL

The major's first place team, the Mets, suffered their first defeat of the season, 15-6 to the Reds. They bounced back with two wins, though, shutting out the Cardinals 10-0 and edging the third place Phillies 11-10.

The number two Padres (5-1), defeated the Braves 8-2 and the Pirates 16-8.

The third place Reds barely got by the Cubs 13-12, prior to their upset win over the Mets.

Tied for third place with the Reds are the Pirates, who lost to the Phillies after a rained out game.

The number four Expos shut-out the Cardinals 10-0.

In other scores, the Dodgers beat the Astros 11-10 and were defeated 6-5 by the Giants. The last place Cardinals won their first game 7-3 over the Braves.

The minors again had some high scoring games, including a 28-7 Angel win over the Athletics and a 25-7 win for the Royals over the Orioles. The Tigers beat the Indians 26-10, the White Sox ripped the Orioles 20-5 and the Tigers edged the Angels 18-12.

In other games, the Royals clipped the Indians 10-9, the league leading Twins (8-2) beat the White Sox 10-8, before defeating the last place Athletics 11-8. A last inning rally spoiled the A's first victory attempt.

Eight homers were hit in the eight games played. The league leading Twins Jennifer Hoyer hit one, as did Stacy Shauner and Tami Handy for the number two Royals. Lisa Baldwin and Marie Sherrin of the Angels, and Joell Lima, Susy Uhri and Janine Alameda of the Tigers all had homers.

WEST VALLEY

Great individual performances highlighted the play in the majors. Kelly Staedler and Michele Spicher both went four for six with five RBI's in a tie game between Dick's Sweeties and The Stingers.

Kim Snyder went three for five, Melinda Yee stroked four for four, and Mary Jo Caggiano went three for five including a home run in a win for the Radical Racers.

Carrie Vaianisi had yet another fine game for The Ravens, hitting two homers, knocking in six RBI's, and striking out 10 batters against the Radical Racers.

Other scores in the majors had the Truckers victorious 14-10 over the Maroon Marauders. The Blue Angels edged the Live Wires 15-14 and lost to the Ravens 14-7.

The first place Wyoming Wranglers became the only undefeated team in the three Bobby Sox Leagues.

MORELAND

The number one minor league team, the Dodgers (9-1), took two victories, 17-5 over the Tigers and 13-11 over the Mets. The second place Royals (7-2-1), defeated the Mets 7-4, but were upset by the Pirates 7-6. The last place Athletics lost twice, 13-5 to the Pirates and 6-4 to the Tigers. Scores from the majors were unavailable at press time.

Super modified take to SJ Speedway for benefit

RAIN POSTPONED its running last month, but the super modifieds will take to the San Jose Speedway oval again this Saturday night in an effort to pack the stands for the Milpitas Elk's Cerebral Palsy benefit night at the races.

The super modifieds will spin around the Speedway oval in the benefit race with qualifying at 6:30 p.m. and race action at 8:15 p.m.

Mike Sargent of San Jose still leads the way in the modified circuit with 280 points with Chuck Christian of Santa Clara a distant second at 238.

Nick Ringo sits in third at 213 with Campbell's Howard Kaeding fourth at 175, Cupertino's Rob Carlotto fifth at 168 and Milpitas' Jack Epperson sixth at 167. Epperson is just coming off of a 100 lap open race at Madera Speedway.

Earle Stanton is seventh at the Speedway with 164 points with Danny O'Neill of Saratoga and Larry Cordeiro tied for eighth at 158 and Pat Rose 10th at 154.

MORE IMPORATNT to Epperson than his main event win last week, though, is the benefit race this weekend. Epperson is one of the key organizers of the race that has earned nearly $8,000 for the cerebral palsy cause in the last three years.

That program provides mobile therapy units for cerebral palsied and other children victimized by crippling diseases; Elks children's clinics in three major hospitals (Children's Hospital of Los Angeles, U.C. Medical Center in San Francisco and Stanford Medical Center in Palo Alto); pre-school vision screening; physical therapists' scholarship programs; handicapped children's teachers' certificates and aid to the California School of the Blind.

A number of young children with cerebral palsy will be guests of the speedway that evening.

One of the more popular attractions at the annual charity race is a series of parade laps prior to the main event in which drivers will maneuver their cars into two, three and finally four-abreast rows before beginning the race.

Tickets for the race are on sale in advance at the Elks Lodge, 86 South Dempsey Road, from any Elks Lodge member (call 263-2400) or at the speedway the night of the races, beginning at 5 p.m. Fifty-cents of every adult admission ticket will be given to the Elks.

Sunbirds vs. Lionettes, a bitter rivalry brewing

THE SAN JOSE Sunbirds and Santa Ana Lionettes have the makings of a pretty good rivalry.

Friendly rivals in the past, things could get to be very explosive in 1977 when the two clubs collide.

Charlotte Graham, longtime star pitcher for the amateur Santa Clara Laurels, is now flinging her fastballs for Santa Ana following an off-season trade with the San Jose Sunbirds.

Graham, along with her catcher Mary Lou Pennington, left San Jose on bitter terms, announcing at the end of last season that she would never again play for the Sunbirds.

Respecting her wishes, San Jose general manager John Bruno sent Graham and Pennington to Santa Ana in exchange for three amateur players, cash and Santa Ana's number one draft pick in 1978. Among the three players acquired in the trade, Connie Staff and Sue Lindh are now starters for the Sunbirds.

The Graham-led Lionettes and Sunbirds will meet for the second time this season this weekend in Santa Ana for a four-game series.

Santa Ana won two out of three in the first series between the two clubs recently. However, Bonnie Johnson bested Graham 3-2 in their meeting.

Santa Ana will visit San Jose for the first time June 10-12 for a five game series at San Jose Municipal Stadium. Tickets to all home games can be purchased at all BASS outlets, Macy's, or by calling the Sunbirds' office at 287-0900.

Pirates upset Cubs 4-1 in C-M Pony League play

By JOHN VAUGHN

FINE pitching by the Pirates' Brett Backwell was the key factor in upsetting the first place Cubs 4-1 in Campbell-Moreland Pony League action.

Backwell went the distance, hurling a four-hitter. John Lawson singled in the winning run for the Pirates in the third inning.

The Tigers and A's remained tied for second when they split a pair of games. In the first game, the Tigers edged the A's 1-0. Garth Setaguchi scored the winning run in the first inning off a Matt Lawrence single.

The A's won the second game by the score of 6-4. The A's scored four runs in the first inning, followed by two more in the second. Bill Fisher received the win for the A's. Mike Walsh and Rich Okamoto led the A's at the plate.

The Cubs held a slim lead in the standings with a 9-3 record, the Yankees and A's were tied at 8-4, the Tigers were 8-5, the Giants were 6-4, the Mets were 6-5-1, the Dodgers were 3-6-1, the Cardinals were 3-10, and the Pirates were 2-11.

The Royals highlighted the first week of the Colt League by beating the Los Gatos Black Team 3-2.

Doug Aguilar was the Royal's top hitter, going 2-2.

In another game, the Astros beat the Royals 2-1.

A's finish road trip

THE OAKLAND A'S conclude their current road swing Wednesday and Thursday against the scrappy Seattle Mariners in Seattle. Both games will be broadcast over KNBR (68) radio beginning at 7:20 p.m.

Monte Moore and Bob Waller will handle the broadcasting duties.

Pirates grab Moreland 1st

MORELAND

A dogfight for the first half championship came to its thrilling climax as the Pirates edged out first place in the Moreland Senior-Majors.

Meanwhile in the Moreland majors the Giants (10-3) kept up a narrow lead over the second place Cubs (9-3). That league is right in the middle of its 21 game season.

WEST VALLEY

First half action in the West Valley Little League Majors started to take off as the Cardinals and Phillies soared to the head of the pack. Both teams have 2-1 records.

The two dynamic teams have played twice in the early going with the Phils winning the first encounter, while the Cards pulled out a come-from-behind victory in the second match up.

QUITO

The Quito Little League finished up its first half with a two team battle that ended in a tie. The Rangers and the Phillies, are the two first place titans and they will have a play-off game for the first half championship on a date to be named latter.
